Building the critical skills needed to succeed in the modern workplace
Soft skills development - no longer a soft option

Business leaders are now waking up to that fact that soft skills – specifically: interpersonal, communication, leadership, problem-solving and cultural intelligence – are now critical to the success of their organizations.

Study after study shows that the impact of soft skills training can be measured in increased productivity, higher employee retention and greater profitability. The good news is that every employee can develop soft skills. These skills are the foundation blocks needed to create strong employees, teams, business leaders and organizations.

86% of executives cite ineffective collaboration and communication as a major cause of business failure

77% of employers say soft skills are as important as hard skills

89% of new hires fail for reasons associated with attitude

60% of failed international assignments cite cultural integration as the no. 1 cause

$37bn The annual cost to US and UK businesses of miscommunication

Communication Skills

Communication is successful only when both the sender and the receiver understand the same information. In today’s highly informational and technological business environment, it is more important than ever to have good communication skills.

A poorly delivered message can be misunderstood, provoke friction among colleagues, or even, in extreme cases, cause financial loss to your organization.

Target audience
• Anyone who needs to increase the impact of their communication at work

Learning outcomes
• Increased professional effectiveness by developing practical skills and techniques
• Become a more effective communicator, with the ability to adapt your style to different situations

• Presentation skills
• Negotiation skills
• Building rapport and empathy
• Influencing and persuading
• Making an impact at work
• Communicating with impact
• Networking
• Speaking clearly and effectively
• Structuring your presentations and ideas
• Etc.
Personal Skills

Personal skills mean creating solutions that help you reach your personal and work goals. Skills such as time management, decision-making and stress management are crucial in business success and help you develop a better work-life balance.

Target audience
• Anyone who wants to develop their personal skills to be more productive and effective in their work

Learning outcomes
• Increased effectiveness and productivity

• Being assertive and confident
• Prioritizing
• Managing your time effectively
• Mindfulness
• Thinking and behaving positively
• Creative and critical thinking
• Dealing with change
• Effective decision-making
• Problem-solving
• Etc.
Virtual Skills

Working in a virtual team, managing remote employees, or presenting to clients via videoconference require a specific skillset. These new ways of working bring many benefits to organizations and individual workers – but also a number of challenges.

Target audience
• Anyone who works virtually or remotely, or who works with colleagues or clients in different locations

Learning outcomes
• Increased confidence using virtual tools
• Strategies to maximize your performance virtually
• Become a more effective virtual worker or manager

• Managing virtual teams
• Working in a virtual and remote environment
• Engaging a virtual audience
• Running virtual meetings
• Working in a matrix structure
• Managing in a matrix structure
• Training in a virtual environment
• Etc.
Management Skills

Management skills position you as an effective leader and problem-solver. These skills can be developed to impact your ability to lead others, perform in your role and achieve your business objectives.

Target audience
• New managers, middle managers taking on bigger teams, or those considering taking on a supervisory position

Learning outcomes
• Become an effective manager and maximize team performance
• Gain tools and strategies to manage your team and build confidence
• Giving and receiving feedback
• Delegation and empowerment
• Coaching and developing others
• Setting and reviewing goals
• Motivating others
• Resolving conflict and difficult situations
• Leading meetings
• Supporting your team through change
• Etc.
Intercultural Skills

Technical knowledge, skills and experience are the foundation of your business. But the ability to understand and work effectively with people from different cultures means that you can apply those skills more effectively.

Target audience
- Employees posted on an international assignment
- Those who work with or manage colleagues, clients or suppliers from different cultures
- Anyone who needs to develop their international leadership skills

Learning outcomes
- Master new cultures
- Build effective international relationships
- Develop a global mindset
- Living and working in... [target culture]
- Partner and family support for assignments
- Managing in... [target culture]
- Repatriation coaching
- Managing expatriate staff
- Working effectively with... [target culture]
- Communicating in international teams
- Developing a global mindset
- Intercultural leadership
- Etc.

Why Learnlight?
Your partner in skills development

We invest in building a long-lasting partnership with you that has a tangible impact on your organization’s performance.

Getting to know someone is an investment. Understanding what makes them tick, what motivates them, what they really enjoy takes time. Here at Learnlight, our philosophy is to take the time to understand you, your learners and your organization.

Only by taking the time to understand your learning challenges can we truly build skills programs that will align with your learning and business objectives.
Digitally transform your soft skills programs

The challenge of providing a standardized and globally-consistent training curriculum is common in many organizations. Poor reporting, limited tracking of ROI, multiple suppliers and differing levels of quality are just some of the hurdles HR and Learning professionals must attempt to overcome.

The digital transformation of your learning programs can solve many of these challenges and more. Learnlight has worked with many of the world’s leading organizations to digitally transform their training curriculum and provide an innovative and flexible new way for employees to learn.

With the Learnlight learning platform your employees can access all their soft skills training needs in one place. HR and Learning professionals can see all the management information you need to accurately measure the return on your investment.

- Global delivery
- Standardized programs
- Guaranteed quality
- Transparent reporting
- Measurable ROI
- Cost-effective
Engaged learners

We are all Modern Learners – overwhelmed, distracted and impatient. Learnlight’s unique approach to soft skills training empowers learners to engage on their own terms – whenever, wherever and how often they wish.

That’s why we use a flipped classroom approach. We combine dynamic live sessions (virtual or face-to-face) with personalized learning content which blends short bursts of microlearning, rich media and interactive materials. All of this is underpinned by our innovative Learnlight Empowerment Method, which ensures engaged, motivated and upskilled learners, and a direct impact on your organization’s bottom line.
The best trainers

We believe trainers are key to creating transformative learning experiences that engage learners, drive tangible progress, and deliver measurable business impact.

We’ve put the world’s best trainers at the heart of the learning experience. Our unique learning platform is based on a 360° management architecture that empowers rather than replaces trainers. Our continuous quality control and dedicated Performance Management team guarantee every learning program is a complete success.
Proven in 150 countries

When it comes to soft skills training programs, the world’s leading companies demand the best: satisfied learners, tangible results, comprehensive reporting, and consistent global delivery. Learnlight does all this and more with many of the world’s leading organizations.

“By providing our employees with cultural awareness support we can maximize our export opportunities and develop strong relations with our international customers.”
